Internet Safety - Cyberbullying

Thursday, October 16, 7:00 - 8:30 p.m.
OAISD Educational Services Building
13565 Port Sheldon Street, Holland

It is critical for educators, parents/guardians, and policy makers to understand the physical and emotional impact and the risks associated with growing up too quickly in the online world. Participants at this workshop will:

- Investigate the current online apps that teens are using to communicate with their peers.
- Explore potential ways students could cyberbully their peers and ways to handle a situation if a child is Cyberbullied.
- Explore how technology can negatively affect youth both physically and emotionally.
- Understand potential legal implications.
- Investigate ways in which parents can implement online boundaries and etiquette with their children.
- Investigate safety procedures and policies for internet and technology usage.

Audience: Administrators, Teachers, Parents, Community Members- All levels

Presenter: Stacey Sills

Cost: FREE, but online registration required
